Modern slavery and ethical trading statement

Input IT Limited, trading as Lockdown Alert. Issued 19 October 2026. Reviewed annually; next review October 2027. A voluntary statement under section 54 of the Modern Slavery Act 2015.

1. Why we publish this

The Modern Slavery Act 2015 obliges businesses with a turnover of £36 million or more to publish a statement. Input IT Limited is well below that threshold and publishes this statement voluntarily because its customers are schools and public bodies that expect it of their suppliers.

2. Our business and supply chain

Input IT Limited is a UK software company. Its product, Lockdown Alert, is developed in house and delivered as a cloud service. The supply chain is short: UK cloud hosting, software licences and subscriptions, payment processing, and a small quantity of electronic hardware (the optional panic buttons) bought from established UK distributors. The company employs no agency labour, no seasonal labour and no workers overseas.

3. Our commitment

- Slavery, servitude, forced labour and human trafficking have no place in our business or our supply chain.
- Everyone who works for the company is employed directly, paid at or above the National Living Wage, and free to leave.
- We buy from suppliers who publish their own modern slavery statements or who confirm, when asked, that they meet the same standard, and we would stop buying from any supplier found to fall short.
- Any staff member or supplier who suspects slavery or trafficking in connection with our business reports it to the director at support@lockdownalert.co.uk; it will be investigated and, where appropriate, reported to the Modern Slavery Helpline (08000 121 700) and the police.

4. Risk

The company assesses its risk of modern slavery as low because it buys services rather than manufactured goods, from UK suppliers, and has no labour supply chain. The assessment is repeated each year and the hardware supply chain is reviewed if volumes grow.
